Congratulations on Phil Reisman's well-written 10/23/03 article about 4 Westchester part-time local judges who broke the law, one of whom at long last was held accountable by removal directed by the NY Court of Appeals, on the Commission on Judicial Conduct's order, as well as Yancy Roy's fine article, also in today's paper, about the "crucial" importance of Gov. Pataki's next appointee to our highest state court.

However, these helpful educational pieces, focusing on the dereliction of these four lower court judges do not tell the rest of the story, which would have to reveal the whole truth as to the systemic corruption of our judiciary on every level, from top to bottom.

We hope the time will be soon when your newspaper, Phil Reisman, Bruce Golding and Yancy Roy stop their complicitous suppression and cover up of years of empiric research and front-line, "in the trenches" work by our White Plains based Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc., whose founders, for nearly fifteen years, have been "documenting how judges break the law and get away with it." See CJA's extensive website at judgewatch.com and "read all about it."

Thanks to 21st century technology, you (and the world at large) now have an extraordinary opportunity to read the People's "newspaper" and access online the critical materials documenting the pernicious pattern and practice of criminal, retaliatory, and vicious conduct of high-level full-time judges. Many of these are, or were, judges sitting in the Westchester County Courthouse, who participated in the "corrupt, illegal, and unethical" written 1989 Three Year Deal for judicial cross-endorsement of seven judges, including the Westchester County Surrogate ), orchestrated by former NYS and Westchester County Republican party boss, Anthony J. Colavita and former Westchester Democratic party boss, now retired Supreme Court Judge Samuel G. Fredman.
