

CENTER for JUDICIAL ACCOUNTABILITY, INC.

P.O. Box 69, Gedney Station
White Plains, New York 10605-0069

Tel. (914) 421-1200
Fax (914) 428-4994

E-Mail: judgewatch@aol.com
Web site: www.judgewatch.org

BY FAX: 631-843-2986 (5 pages) & E-MAIL: klurfeld@newsday.com

TO: James Klurfeld, Editorial Page Editor
Newsday

FROM: Elena Ruth Sassower, Coordinator

RE: Editorial Endorsements for Attorney General and Governor

DATE: October 9, 2002

As the Newsday's editorial board prepares its endorsements for Attorney General and Governor, its recommendations to voters must be based on information that is relevant, balanced, and accurate.

Because of the separation that exists between Newsday's editorial and news sides, the editorial board is presumably unaware of an important story proposal, "The REAL Attorney General Spitzer – Not the P.R. Version", presented for election coverage to Newsday's Albany Bureau Chief Jordan Rau and to Investigations Editor Reginald Gale. It is therefore enclosed -- revised for clarity.

The fully-documented facts, outlined by the proposal, would "rightfully end Mr. Spitzer's re-election prospects, political future, and legal career" – with "repercussions on Governor Pataki...similarly devastating". Consequently, I request that a copy of this five-page transmittal be provided to each and every member of the editorial board so that they may evaluate the board's proper course of action.

Should the board determine that its duty is to examine the substantiating documents, I will transmit them forthwith<sup>1</sup>. Needless to say, I would be pleased to meet with the board, either collectively or individually, to assist it in independently verifying, within the space of a few hours, the most salient aspects of this extraordinary story.

---

<sup>1</sup> Some of these documents are already at Newsday, readily-available from reporter Zachary Dowdy, who has stated to me that he is working on an investigative story about the New York State Commission on Judicial Conduct based thereon.

STORY PROPOSAL FOR ELECTION COVERAGE*The REAL Attorney General Spitzer -- Not the P.R. Version

The most salient aspects of this story proposal can be independently verified within a few hours. The result would rightfully end Mr. Spitzer's re-election prospects, political future, and legal career. Its repercussions on Governor Pataki would be similarly devastating.

* * *

Repeatedly, the public is told that Eliot Spitzer is a "shoe-in" for re-election as Attorney General<sup>2</sup> and a rising star in the Democratic Party with a future as Governor and possibly President<sup>3</sup>. The reason for such favorable view is simple. The press has not balanced its coverage of lawsuits and other actions initiated by Mr. Spitzer, promoted by his press releases and press conferences, with any coverage of lawsuits defended by Mr. Spitzer. This, despite the fact that defensive litigation is the "lion's share" of what the Attorney General does.

The Attorney General's own website identifies that the office "defends thousands of suits each year in every area of state government" -- involving "nearly two-thirds of the Department's Attorneys in bureaus based in Albany and New York City and in the Department's 12

---

<sup>2</sup> "Court of Claims Judge to Face Spitzer", (New York Law Journal, May 15, 2002, John Caher, Daniel Wise), quoting Maurice Carroll, Director of Quinnipiac College Polling Institute, "Spitzer has turned out to be a very good politician, and he is just not vulnerable"; "[Gov. Pataki] could pick the Father, Son and Holy Ghost and he wouldn't beat Spitzer"; "The Attorney General Goes to War", (New York Times Magazine, June 16, 2002, James Traub), "Spitzer's position is considered so impregnable that the Republicans have put up a virtually unknown judge to oppose him this fall -- an indubitable proof of political success"; "The Enforcer" (Fortune Magazine, September 16, 2002 coverstory, Mark Gimein), "he's almost certain to win a second term as attorney general this fall".

<sup>3</sup> "Spitzer Pursuing a Political Path" (Albany Times Union, May 19, 2002, James Odato); "A New York Official Who Harnessed Public Anger" (New York Times, May 22, 2002, James McKinley); "Spitzer Expected to Cruise to 2nd Term" (Gannett, May 27, 2002, Yancey Roy); "Attorney General Rejects Future Role as Legislature" (Associated Press, June 4, 2002, Marc Humbert); "Democrats Wait on Eliot Spitzer, Imminent 'It Boy'" (New York Observer, August 19, 2002, Andrea Bernstein), "many insiders already are beginning to talk -- albeit very quietly -- about the chances of a Democrat winning back the Governor's office in 2006. At the top of their wish list is Mr. Spitzer, whose name recognition has shot through the roof in the last year, private pollsters say, and who appears -- for now, at least -- to have no negatives."

Regional offices.”<sup>4</sup> It is therefore appropriate that the press critically examine at least one lawsuit defended by Mr. Spitzer. How else will the voting public be able to gauge his on-the-job performance in this vital area?

Our non-partisan, non-profit citizens' organization, Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA), proposes a specific lawsuit as ideal for press scrutiny. The lawsuit is against a single high-profile respondent, the New York State Commission on Judicial Conduct, sued for corruption – and is expressly brought in the public interest. It has spanned Mr. Spitzer's tenure as Attorney General and is now before the New York Court of Appeals. Most importantly, Mr. Spitzer is directly familiar with the lawsuit. Indeed, it was generated and perpetuated by his official misconduct – and seeks monetary sanctions against, and disciplinary and criminal referral of, Mr. Spitzer personally.

As you know, Mr. Spitzer's 1998 electoral victory as Attorney General was so razor-close that it could not be determined without an unprecedented ballot-counting. Aiding him was Election Law lawyer, Henry T. Berger, the Commission's long-standing Chairman. What followed from this and other even more formidable conflicts of interest was predictable: Attorney General Spitzer would NOT investigate the documentary proof of the Commission's corruption – proof leading to Mr. Berger. This necessitated the lawsuit, Elena Ruth Sassower, Coordinator of the Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc., acting pro bono publico v. Commission on Judicial Conduct of the State of New York -- which Mr. Spitzer has defended with litigation tactics so fraudulent as would be grounds for disbarment if committed by a private attorney.

The lawsuit file contains a breathtaking paper trail of correspondence with Mr. Spitzer, spanning 3-1/2 years, establishing his direct knowledge of his Law Department's fraudulent conduct in defending the Commission and his personal liability by his wilful refusal to meet his mandatory supervisory duties under DR-1-104 of New York's Code of Professional Responsibility (22 NYCRR §1200.5).

Added to this, the lawsuit presents an astonishing “inside view” of the hoax of Mr. Spitzer's “public integrity unit” – which, by September 1999, was cited by Gannett as having “already logged more than 100 reports of improper actions by state and local officials across New York” (“Spitzer's Anti-Corruption Unit Gets Off to a Busy Start”, 9/8/99).

---

<sup>4</sup> See www/oag.state.ny.us/: “Tour the Attorney General's Office” – Division of State Counsel.

Exposing the hoax of Mr. Spitzer's "public integrity unit" properly begins with examining its handling of the first two "reports" it received. These were from CJA and involved the very issues subsequently embodied in the lawsuit. Indeed, I publicly handed these two "reports" to Mr. Spitzer on January 27, 1999 immediately upon his public announcement of the establishment of his "public integrity unit". This is reflected by the transcript of my public exchange with Mr. Spitzer at that time, transcribed by the New York Law Journal

The first "report", whose truth was and is readily-verifiable from the litigation files of Mr. Spitzer's Law Department, required Mr. Spitzer to "clean his own house" before tackling corruption elsewhere in the state. At issue were the fact-specific allegations of CJA's $3,000 public interest ad, "Restraining 'Liars in the Courtroom' and on the Public Payroll" (New York Law Journal, 8/27/97, pp. 3-4), as to a modus operandi of fraudulent defense tactics used by predecessor Attorneys General to defeat meritorious lawsuits, including a 1995 lawsuit against the Commission, sued for corruption. This in addition to fraudulent judicial decisions, protecting judges and the Commission.

The second "report" was of no less transcendent importance to the People of this State. It, too, was substantiated by documents. These were provided to Mr. Spitzer, including documents as to the involvement and complicity of Governor Pataki. At issue was not only the Commission's corruption, but the corruption of "merit selection" to the Court of Appeals. Reflecting this was my published Letter to the Editor, "An Appeal to Fairness: Revisit the Court of Appeals" (New York Post, 12/28/98) – whose closing paragraph read: "This is why we will be calling upon our new state attorney general as the 'People's lawyer,' to launch an official investigation."

As detailed by the lawsuit file, not a peep was thereafter heard from Mr. Spitzer or his "public integrity unit" about these two "reports". Endless attempts to obtain information regarding the status of any investigations were all unanswered. Indeed, Mr. Spitzer's only response was to replicate the fraudulent defense tactics of his predecessor Attorneys General, complained of in the first "report". This, to defeat the lawsuit which I, acting as a private attorney general, brought to vindicate the public's rights in the face of Mr. Spitzer's inaction born of his conflicts of interest.

What has become of the "more than 100 reports of improper actions by state and local officials across New York" cited by Gannett as having been "already logged" by September 1999. And what has become of the hundreds more "reports" presumably "logged" in the three years since? A "search" of Mr. Spitzer's Attorney General website [www.oag.state.ny.us/] produces only seven entries for the "public integrity unit", with virtually no substantive information about its operations and accomplishments.

That the media-savvy Mr. Spitzer should offer such few and insignificant entries is startling, in and of itself. Even more so, when juxtaposed with Mr. Spitzer's specific promises from his 1998 election campaign that his "Public Integrity Office" would be "empowered to":

- (1) "Vigorously Prosecute Public Corruption...Using the Attorney General's subpoena powers...to conduct independent and exhaustive investigations of corrupt and fraudulent practices by state and local officials";
- (2) "Train and Assist Local Law Enforcement...And if a local prosecutor drags his heels on pursuing possible improprieties...to step in to investigate and, if warranted, prosecute the responsible public officials";
- (3) "Create a Public Integrity Watchdog Group...made up of representatives of various state agencies, watchdog groups and concerned citizens...[to] recommend areas for investigation, coordinate policy issues pertaining public corruption issues, and advocate for regulations that hold government officials accountable";
- (4) "Encourage Citizen Action to Clean Up Government...[by] a toll-free number for citizens to report public corruption or misuse of taxpayer dollars";
- (5) "Report to the People...[by] an annual report to the Governor, the legislature and the people of New York on the state of public integrity in New York and incidents of public corruption".

The foregoing excerpt, from Mr. Spitzer's 1998 campaign policy paper, "Making New York State the Nation's Leader in Public Integrity: Eliot Spitzer's Plan for Restoring Trust in Government", is the standard against which to measure the figment of Mr. Spitzer's "public integrity unit". Likewise, it is the standard for measuring Mr. Spitzer's 2002 re-election website [www.spitzer2002.com], which says nothing about the "public integrity unit" or of public integrity and government corruption, let alone as campaign issues.

I would be pleased to fax you any of the above-indicated documents or other items, such as the article about the lawsuit, "Appeal for Justice" (Metroland, April 25-May 1, 2002). Needless to say, I am eager to answer your questions and to provide you with a copy of the lawsuit file from which this important story of Mr. Spitzer's official misconduct and the hoax of his "public integrity unit" is readily and swiftly verifiable.

ELENA RUTH SASSOWER, Coordinator
Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA)

Subj: Editorial Endorsements for Attorney General & Governor
Date: 10/9/02 4:01:49 PM Eastern Daylight Time
From: Judgewatchers
To: klurfeld@newsday.com
CC: jrau@newsday.com, gale@newsday.com, dowdy@newsday.com
File: 10-9-02-newsday.doc (38400 bytes) DL Time (115200 bps): < 1 minute

Attached is the Center for Judicial Accountability's five-page transmittal, previously faxed, for consideration by the members of Newsday's editorial board.

Thank you.

Elena Ruth Sassower, Coordinator
 Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA)
 (914) 421-1200

TRANSMISSION VERIFICATION REPORT

Newsday
James Klurfeld
Editorial Page
Editor

TIME : 10/09/2002 15:54
 NAME : CJA
 FAX : 9144284994
 TEL : 9144211200

DATE, TIME	10/09 15:50
FAX NO./NAME	16318432986
DURATION	00:03:41
PAGE(S)	05
RESULT	OK
MODE	STANDARD
	ECM