Message:

According to your request, I am sending a copy of the complaint letter which I faxed to your offices on August 6th, and was never acknowledged as promised. As I said, I wish the substance of both complaints to be dealt with comprehensively. I thank you for your promise to send me sometime today an advance fax of your letter of acknowledgment, as well as the contact information for the person or persons in government who oversee the operation of your agency.

In the event that my writing in those complaints is beyond the comprehension of those who must read, consider, and decide upon them, I formally request oral argument.

Respectfully submitted,

Ike Aruti
