Ms. Sassower,

I am working on the story about the Commission on Judicial Accountability, which you have contacted me about several times. I wanted to get in touch with you to see if you could assist me in getting in touch with Ron Loeber, an Albany-area man who was jailed for 45 days by Judge Teresi. His perspective on this situation would be extremely valuable to a story like this.

Also: If there are any other individuals that you believe would like to discuss the situation, I would be interested in contacting them. You can either e-mail me the pertinent information, or if you'd prefer, call me at (518) 463-2500, ext. 142. Thank you.
