RE: Investigative SERIES on the Readily-Verifiable Evidence of the Corruption of the Commission on Judicial Conduct – INCLUDING the Cover-Up of that Evidence by The Albany Times Union and Other Mainstream Newspapers

Dear Erin:

As discussed, enclosed is my correspondence with The Albany Times Union germane to its five-part editorial series on the NYS Commission on Judicial Conduct, that appeared from February 3-February 7, 2002:

- (1) my February 5, 2002 letter to Howard Healy, Editorial Page Editor;
- (2) my February 6, 2002 letter to Mr. Healy;
- (3) my February 8, 2002 letter to Mr. Healy;
- (4) my February 12, 2002 letter to Mr. Healy, transmitting my proposed Letter to the Editor, responding to Chief Judge Kaye's published column, "State Judicial System is Accountable to Public";
- (5) my February 12, 2002 e-mail to Mr. Healy;
* * * *
- (6) my February 8, 2002 letter to Jay Jochnowitz, State Editor, enclosing my June 19, 2001 letter to him;
- (7) Mr. Jochnowitz' February 12, 2002 e-mail to me;
- (8) My February 12, 2002 e-mail to Mr. Jochnowitz

I have an equally extraordinary correspondence with the Daily News concerning its current "Judging the Judges" editorial series, which has appeared periodically since November 26, 2001 – AND to which Judith Kaye also replied with a published column referring to the Commission, "I Rise in Defense of State's Courts". I will bring copies of this correspondence tomorrow.

Indeed, I have comparable correspondence with such other mainstream newspapers as The New York Times, Newsday, The New York Post, and The New York Law Journal. Let me know if you would also like copies so that, as part of your important SERIES on the readily-verifiable evidence of the Commission's corruption, you can expose (as you rightfully should) how ILL served the public has been by standard news sources.
