Dear Ms. Sassower:

I have reviewed your correspondence of January 17, 1997 that was faxed and mailed to the American Bar Association and its Center For Professional Responsibility. (I note that although this correspondence referred to an attached/enclosed letter of September 18 concerning your treatment at the 1996 ABA Annual Meeting in Orlando, that letter was not included in either communication.)

First, the items that you requested will not be placed on the agendas of either the Center for Professional Responsibility nor the meeting agendas of the Center's committees which are participating in the ABA Mid-Year Meeting in San Antonio.

Second, based on your past conduct at American Bar Association meetings and other meetings that ABA staff attended, you will not be permitted to register for the ABA meeting and will not be permitted to attend the meetings, including those committee meetings associated with the Center for Professional Responsibility. You were permitted to attend in the past only as a courtesy, as you are not a member of nor eligible for membership in the ABA. Any attempt to enter or disrupt ABA meetings will be dealt with appropriately.

Sincerely,
