

Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA)

---

From: Nicole Briggs <briggs1004@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, August 17, 2017 2:17 PM
To: Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA)
Subject: Re: Why are you not calling up the indicated recipients of the OPEN LETTER for comment? -- RE: WHAT IS THE STATUS? Follow-up to your article "Astorino Snubbed by Political Party he Helped Create" (Aug 2, 2017-White Plains Daily Voice/Sam Barron)

I DO NOT WORK AS A JOURNALIST ANYWHERE IN ANY CAPACITY. YOUR FUTURE EMAILS WILL BE BLOCKED AS SPAM. PLEASE STOP WASTING YOUR TIME AND MINE.

On Thu, Aug 17, 2017 at 2:11 PM, Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA) <elena@judgewatch.org> wrote:

Dear Mr. Barron,

As reflected by the e-mail I just sent you, which is below, it contains the e-mail chain that includes my August 10th e-mail reply to your August 10th e-mail asking me to shorten the OPEN LETTER to 350 words.

For what purpose are you requesting that I shorten the OPEN LETTER? Don't you know how to summarize the OPEN LETTER for purposes of a story? Presumably you read it and can appreciate its significance. Why are you NOT calling up the letter's indicated recipients, beginning with Reform Party Chair Curtis Sliwa, Senator Latimer, County Executive Astorino, and County Legislator Jenkins for their comment? Have they examined the referred-to substantiating EVIDENCE on CJA's webpage for the OPEN LETTER: <http://www.judgewatch.org/web-pages/elections/2017/8-10-17-open-ltr.htm>? What are their responses to that readily-verifiable, posted EVIDENCE?

Please team-up with other journalists at the White Plains Daily Voice , if you need help with this far-reaching, political story – including in recognizing that it blows open this year's electoral race for Westchester's highest executive officer and torpedoes the 2018 re-election prospects of our Westchester-domiciled governor and every incumbent state senator and assembly member from Westchester, none more powerful than Senate Minority Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins, who was briefly rumored to have considered running in this year's race for Westchester county executive.

By the way, at 12:58 p.m. today., just over half an hour after receiving your below e-mail, I received an e-mail from Nicole Briggs, whose sole and unceremonious response was: "Please remove me from your media list ASAP. I have not worked for The Daily Voice in over a year." You may be sure I will not hereafter include her as, if she remains a journalist, she does not deserve the dynamite LEAD I laid out before her.

Thank you.